

Op Ed Grading Rubric

You should use the assignment description in conjunction with this rubric. Be sure to review it before beginning your peer review of the writer's Op Ed piece.

While using the grading rubric, you should consider the thoroughness for each of the categories.

DESCRIPTION	POINTS POSSIBLE	POINTS EARNED	THE WRITER CAN IMPROVE...
The writer makes one clear argument.	10
The writer uses specific details.	20
The writer is brief and to the point but still persuasive.	20
The writer cites appropriate facts and sources.	20
The writer uses active verbs.	10
The writer uses clear and understandable language.	10
The content is free of spelling and grammatical errors.	10
	100	/100
One thing I liked about the writer's Op Ed piece is...			